ANA BELL: So I have this variable name once, which is umbr-- looks like people are getting it. We have a variable called repeat, which is ella, and I'm creating a variable u, which is the concatenation of that with the repeat multiplied by 4. So I think people are on the right track, seeing by the 90% here. It's going to give me this result right here. Great.